To whom it may concern:

Life Needs Co-op is a small not-for-profit that I have been running for 25 years now, and I have had frequent need to turn to Ms. Jill Levy for help. She has always been able to make a recommendation that positively affected the situation.

Ms. Levy's capacity for offering wise counsel, her effective edification, and her passion for supporting the full potential of those with whom she works have made her a trusted resource and a good friend.

I am excited that Ms. Levy has chosen to formalize these capacities in her own organization and thus offer them to a wider clientele. I look forward to the support this will make available to our organization and other small not-for-profit organizations.

Sincerely,

Nick Stanton,
Treasurer
